WELCOME TO ESTONIA, WELCOME TO TARTU

Tartu, with its population of around 100,000 in an area of 154 square kilometres, is the second largest city in Estonia. The first written records of Tartu date from 1030, making it the oldest city in the Baltic States. Tartu has played an important role in the development of Estonian culture and national consciousness: the first national elite stemmed from the local university, the first newspapers and cultural societies, the first national theater - all began their work here, and the first national song festival took place here as well.

WHY YOU WILL LOVE ESTONIA

More than half of the country is covered by forested land and almost a quarter is protected nature. As a result, Estonia has the 4th best air quality in the world. Naturally, with so much greenery, Estonians have a special connection to the outdoors. Estonians love their nature. That means forests, bogs, and all the creatures that live there. The country's wildlife includes lynxes, brown bears, wolves, foxes, rabbits, and deer. In the spring and autumn time, birdwatching is an extremely popular pastime attracting people from all over the world.

EXCURSIONS

A. Le Coq Beer museum – Welcome to Beer World!

Photos: www.ollemaailm.alecoq.ee

The story of beer culture, which spans thousands of years, is told in the Beer World, one of the newest and most contemporary experience centres in Tartu. The fully preserved historical malt tower, which is known as a symbol of the city and one of the rarest industrial buildings in Europe, is the heart of the museum. In addition to its unique architecture, you'll find exciting installations and interactive exhibits as well as fascinating stories and legends in the Beer World.

Gren

Photos: www.gren.com

Gren - the green energy company. All new, but positively familiar. This is where experience meets future-minded initiatives. This is where the future is being energized today in a sustainable and efficient way. Biomass combined heat and power plant in Tartu utilizes local fuels - woodchips and milled peat, whereby a large part of the peat comes from the company's own peat deposits. The plant provides district heating to approx 1 900 customers and 72 000 end users in Tartu city. The Tartu plant is the backbone for Tartu district heating and cooling system that is one of the best and most advanced in Estonia.

Tarmeko

Photos: www.tarmeko.ee

Tarmeko companies have been processing wood and producing high-quality furniture since 1947. High-quality furniture design and production have always been an important goal for Tarmeko. Modern and innovative production technology and over 70 years of experience give Tarmeko a competitive advantage. This allows the company to work with complicated and labour-intensive projects. In doing so it is important to manage the client base fast and efficiently. That is why the company's main mission is to create value-added products made out of wood and other high-quality materials.

Guided sightseeing tours

Photos: www.visittartu.com

On the swampy plains of Emajõgi River, where the sandy hills that had formed on the area of Tartu made crossing the river easier, a settlement emerged already several centuries ago. The existence of the castle situated on the foreland of Toome dates back to the 5th century, and the discovery site of the settlers of Kunda culture, which lies in the city's current boundaries in Ihaste, could extend Tartu`s history even up to 10,000 years.

The Estonian National Museum and Upside Down House

Founded in Tartu in 1909 on the initiative and with the support of the nation - with the task to protect and develop the history and culture of Estonia. The Estonian National Museum is an ethnologically and cultural-historically oriented museum which aims at reflecting everyday life and culture as a way of life, taking into account its periodical, spatial and social diversity. The museum focuses on collecting, preserving and studying material concerned with the culture and history of Estonians, Estonian minorities and Finno-Ugric peoples and making it accessible.
